FRENCH COACH STALLION "TORRENT"

Famous Winner of World's Prizes Pays Salt Lake a Visit.

AN ANIMAL WITH A RECORD.

Weighs 1,312 Pounds and Trotted a Mile in 2:30 -He is Given as Much Care as Lou Dillon.

"Torrent," a French coach stallion, a champion every inch of him, arrived in Salt Lake during the week in the care of E. A. Masters, an experienced horseman in the employe of McLaughlin Bros. "Torrent" is stationed at the Salt Lake Livery and Transfer stables, where he is provided with a padded box stall, and where as much care is lavished upon him as is shown to the famous Lou Dillon. Masters did not herald his coming with a blast of trumpets and therefore the presence of this famous animal is not generally known. Yesterday afternoon a horsemen saw "Torrent" at the stables and pronounced him a wonder. Capt. Samuel Paul said the animal is one of the most magnificent specimens of horseflesh he over saw.

Before being brought here from France,
"Torrent," who is seven years old, made a record of 3 kilometers (nearly two miles), in five minutes. The record was made over a sod track with a 140 pound

He possesses the blood of Fuschia and Phaeton, two of the greatest trotters of France. He trotted two miles in 5:08%, winning 20.200 francs.

Phaeton, two of the greatest tratters of France. He trotted two miles in 5:08/4, winning 30:200 francs.

The animal was bred by M. Lallouet of France. He was sired by Fuschia, dam Fauvette M by Phaeton, and comes from a long string of famous animals.

In 1903 "Torrent" won the Sophr trophy and championship at the Chicago horseshow. He was also winner of the Kansas horse show in 1902, and first prize winner at the Ohio state fair in the same year. He was the first prize winner, and championship, also grand championship at the international livestock show in Chicago in the same year.

During the year of 1904 he was the first prize winner and grand championship at the world's fair, and was also first prize winner and grand championship at the international livestock show in Chicago.

To judge of the care that is lavished on the animal one should see him in his stall which is decorated with bunting and draped with the many ribbons, medals and other trophies he has won.

Angeles.

Los Angeles, Cal., Dec. 22.—Waswift, Yeager's big chesthuir horse, showed some of his speed exhibited at Ascot last year when he hung up the track record of 1:39½ for the mile with 124 pounds up by winning the third race today from Feline Lugo and Kenilworth. Waswift was almost overlooked in the betting. He drifted from 5 to 1 to 8 to 1 in the books, while Kenilworth was played from 2 to 1 to 8 to 5. #### PACIFIC NATIONAL LEAGUE. President Lucas Will Call a Meeting for Some Time in January/

Spokane Spokesman-Review says:

The Spokane Spokesman-Review says:
Now that the Coast league magnates have decided not to admit Spokane, the baseball atmosphere of the Pacific National league is beginning to clear up, and everything points to the continuance of the old league, with possibly two more clubs.

President W. H. Lucas, who returned to Spokane yesterday, will call a meeting of the presidents of the Pacific National league to be held in Spokane some time in January, at which time it is thought a schedule for a four or six team, league will be made out.

President Lucas discredits the story that Jack Wilmot is trying to form a Utah-Montana league, Such a league, he says, would be rank outlawry. If such a league were formed the clubs of the Pacific National league, which would become members, would have to forfeit their franchise money, and would be outlawed by the national agreement.

Clyde Williams, president of the Clyde Williams, president of the Spokane team, returned from California yesterday, where he attended the meeting of the Pacific Coast league officers. Mr. Williams said: "I went to California on a business trip, and while there, at the solicitation of the northern club owners, and by invitation of President Bert, I attended the meeting. The northern owners were all in favor of admitting Spokane, but the California owners were opposed to the idea, and when the vote was left to President Bert, of course, he decided with the California owners.

Bert, of course, he decided with the California owners.

"Under the national agreement, the northern clubs could still take Spokane in, by buying the franchise of the Spokane club. The Pacific National will be in existence next year, but in 1936, when the Pacific Coast league franchises expire in December, I think the old northwest league will be in operation again. And I am assured by all the northern clubs that it is the desire to form the old circuit at that time and to admit Spokane."

may become one of the most popular of college sports. The amalgamation of the Inter-University and Inter-Collegiate associations has been talised of for some time, but the matter has now been placed in such shape as to give encouragement to the promoters that the two organizations will work together.

The object of the coalition is to have uniform playing rules among the colleges of the east. The Inter-University association is composed of Columbia. Harvard, Cornell and Pennsylvania. The Inter-Collegiate is made up of Lebigh, Swartmore, Stevens and Johns, Hopkins, Under the plan of amalgamation there will be a northern and southern association, which will play out a schedule, and the winners of each will meet for the inter-collegiate La Crosse championship of the United States, J. #### Entries Not Announced.

Berlin, Dec. 23.—It developed today upon investigation that the list of American entries for the transatlantic yacht race next year published by the Lokal Anzelger in a dispatch from Kiel yesterday, although purporting to be official, was only the impression which the Imperial Yacht club's officials derived from American letters. The entries will not be officially announced until they are closed.

PREMIUM SCHEMES.

"Something for Nothing" Craze is a Delusion and Snare.

To the Editor.

This is a day when it is a hard matter to sell goods upon their merits. It seems that there must be some gift to induce the people to buy an article, and it is often very amusing to notice how the public, especially the fair sex, will buy an article of inferior quality, so that they may get the premium. They think that the premium is had for nothing, that it is given them free of cost for using that kind of goods. For instance to show the folly of such an idea: There are two kinds of cocoanut on the market. One gives premiums to the purchaser the other does not. The one which gives premiums costs the retailer 27% cents per pound package, while the other costs him 25% cents. retailer then, to make it profitable for handling, should sell one at 35 cents and the other at 30 cents. That would make a difference of 5 cents on each package. This then pays for the pre-

Again, let us consider the cereal gift scheme. Before a certain class of meal was contaminated with this great evil of premiums, it sold three for 21 ents; now it is selling two for 25 cents. Because by offerings for premi ums gold watches, whole sets of dishes sewing machines, and many other ar-ticles, they are compelled to advance the price of the goods so as to make the public pay for the premiums.

"The cereal companies' premium plan," says the Chicago Tribune, "is carrying them down with their own weight." Now they are trying to inaugurate some plan to help themselves up. I hope this idea of getting some-thing for nothing, will soon be looked down upon by the public as it should

An eastern paper has this to say about it. "In short, it partakes of the nature of gambling, of which the profit is sure to go to those who exploit such devices for attracting custom, and the real cure is for people to refuse to be fooled by such schemes." scheme has a demoralizing effect upon business, it robs the merchant of his legitimate profits and in order to make ends meet he must invariably get profit by unfair methods. To do honest, legitimate business one must abstain premiums, trading stamps, cupons, and discounts. My experience has been that the places of business that practise decep-tion get the poorer class of trade. What I mean by this is that those who are always hunting a bargain by trying to get things at half price, are always poor and always will be. Dear reader, don't let your imagination get the better of your judgment, and when the news of some great bankrupt sale or a slaughter in prices reaches your ears, look out. A good article is always saleable, but a poor one is often not cheap at any price. Be careful of the man who offers some-thing for nothing. His plan looks suspicious; he has a scheme wherein he is benefiting himself. The American peo-ple are being bilked every day and I only wish I were able to convince the public that the craze of "something nothing" is a delusion and first originated in the brains of grafters. I originated in the brains of grarters. I am reminded of a young man who read an advertisement which stated, "How to get rich for $1." The young man sent $1 back and this was the "Catch suckers, like we are C. D. B.

When Brown got there the two men were struggling on the ground and the divorced wife of Self was trying to separate them. The trouble started when Self saw his divorced wife walking home with Walker. # AT THE L. D. S. U.

Close of School for Holidays Marked by a Fine Program.

STUDENTS SPEAK, SING, SHOUT.

Unbounded Enthusiasm, Delightful Music, Good Jokes and Laughable Christmas Presents.

A program of decided merit was given yesterday by the students of the Latterday Saints' University. At 10 o'clock, when the general assembly convened in Barratt Hall, the room was decorated with the Stars and Stripes and with the banner of every school organization. There was also the unusual feature of class yells, which made the hall ring as the different groups represented their classes with the rah, rah, rah! and other sounds. President Paul called the meeting to order and announced that the students would give the program which was then carried out as follows: All sang "The Gold and Blue," accom panied by the band. Prayer was offered by Vice President Angus M. Cannon. A charming ladies' chorus was ren-dered by a number of the ladies of the singing classes. The piece was "When Life is Brightest," by Pinsuti.

SCHOOL PATRIOTISM.

Raphael Olsen, representing the firstyear class, made a neat speech in choice language, which evoked hearty applace and enthusiasm among the students. The remarks were devoted to the subject of loyalty and school patriotism. The speaker argued that the loyalty of the forefathers of our country to their leaders and their principles had been the real cause for the success of the revolutionary arms. So too the devotion of the soldiers of Napoleon to their emperor went far to explain his amazing achievements, and several well chosen anecdotes were related to illustrate the loyalty of the soldiers of France. From these premises the speaker reached the conclusion that the success of this institution will be measured by the loyalty of its students and their willingness to follow their chosen leaders. Mr. Olsen's speech was carefully prepared and was received with marked approval.

Miss Edwardina Parry sang Millard's soprano solo "Walting," in a very beautiful voice and with fine expres-sion. Miss Florence Tingey, representing the second year class, and Miss Romania Barker, representing the third year class, made appropriate addresswhich were well received. Zella Smart recited two scenes from Alice Rici's "Lovey Mary," giving a portraval that was both natural Students of the training school then sang "Whispering Hope"-Hawthorn, a selection that was loudly applauded.

MR. WILEY'S SPEECH. Ray Wiley, president of the commercial class, delivered a carefully prepared address on school patriotism that made a decided impression on the He spoke of the characteristics of the Anglo-Saxon race, as excans-their loyalty and devotion to their country's cause and their un wavering defense of the right. Then he made application of these characteristics to the subject of loyalty to the school, to its leaders, its organizations and its ideals. The speaker main-tained that it is as much the duty of the student to exercise patriotism toward his school as toward his nation; that students are citizens of their school, as well as of their country; and that it is a sort of treason to be a lag-gard in school affairs. "Show me a student who is not patriotic to his sphool and I will show you thereafter a citizen who is indifferent to the wel-fare of his nation." The speaker's climax was a peroration as follows: "I think I see the rainbow of promise in the west; and as that glorious spec-tacle of the Creator's power grows brighter with its deepening colors, I can see the gold and the blue more vivid and yet more lively than all the rest. So may it be with our Gold and Blue; may the love for it become more deeply rooted in the hearts of its followers! so that, in years to come, our minds may be bright with remembrances of the days spent in guarding its honor and welfare.'

MUSIC, WIT AND WISDOM.

The second year quartet rendered "Before the Dawn," by Parks, and responded to a vigorous encore with "And That Was All." Mr. W. D. Turner in a neat speech represented the shorthand department, and Miss Clarice Thatcher, representing the nurses' training course, brought down the house with words of wit and wisdom in relation to the calling of the nurse. A male chorus, "The Lone Starry Hour," by Foster, was well rendered by about 25 young men, under Prof. Stephens. Then Owen Horsfall of the senior class, represented the prospective graduates in a brief speech, in which he said:

"Christmas day is wrongly supposed to be the anniversary of the birth of Christ, Nevertheless it is the day that is celebrated by all Christians. At first solemn feasts were held on that day, but later the giving of presents was instituted. Now, as we are about to separate for the holidays and to have a great deal of enjoyment, let us remember whose birthday we are cele-brating. The faculty have given us three days' extra for the Christmas holidays, therefore let us, when we return, show our appreciation by our

A HAPPY NEW YEAR.

He wished the students and teachers the compliments of the season in a merry Christmas and a glad new year, after which the benediction was pronounced by Vice President Angus M.

At the conclusion of the formal program, President Ray Gledhill of the students' society came forward with an announcement, introducing a Santa Claus, who proceeded to distribute to the members of the faculty various toy presents from a large Christmas tree fitted up for the event as a surprise on the teachers. President Paul was given a silk cap, so that he would not have to wear his hat in the halls; Prof. Hinckley received a pair of dolls, for his iamous twins at home; Prof. Mills, a package of catnip tea; Prof. Nowlin, a pair of dolls from his lady students. Prof. Horne, a toy horn; Prof. Miller, a frying pan; Prof. Stephens' a tin piano; Instructor Evans,

The presenta-tions were accompanied by humorous specifications and the teachers acknowledged the gifts in short sayings. SURPRISED THE TEACHERS. Instructor McRae of the Business college was specially honored by his students yesterday morning. Instructor McRae of the L. D. S. uni-

The surprised teacher en-tered a piea of "guilty." and was told that if he would be seated, his case would be considered further. Miss Pflum, in a neat and well chosen speech on behalf of the class, presented Mr. on behalf of the class, presented at McRae with a beautiful gold watch chain, as a token of the esteem in which he is held by the students. Mr. McRae in response, said the success of the class had been due to the loyalty of the students, that a teacher's success was measured only by that of his stu-dents and that their failure would be his. He further remarked that the associations he had formed in the school were the most pleasant of his life, and that his greatest regret in leaving would be the loss of the society of these students. Masked Men Searched a Delivery Boy But Got Nothing.

At U and Second streets about 6 o'clock last evening John Elswood, a delivery boy, was held up and searched by two masked highwaymen. # NOT SCHETTLER.

Senator Rawlins Does Not Represent Him-Only His Wife Mary.

The statement in the local press to the effect that Senator Joseph L. Rawlins has been retained to represent B. H. Schettler, the ex-banker, in his recent and present troubles, is denied by the former. Senator Rawlins says he has nothing whatever to do with Mr. Schettler. He is simply looking after the interests of Mrs. Mary Schettler, who came to him with a case which he regards as meritorious. It is in effect to protect her South Temple street home, a deed for which she obtained 19 years before her husband went into the banking business. Besides, this property has never been in Mr. Schettler's name since that time, nor has it been included in the bank's assets. Accordingly, Mr. Rawlins is of the opinion that Mrs. Schettler has a clear litle to it. Schettler, the ex-banker, in his recent
